of themany tons of coal you use in your coal range a year, and how it all has to be handled twice; first carrying it from its storage place to the range; then from the coal range to the ash barrel. Did you ever realize that it was possible to do away with all this hard work? It is.

Buy a Gas Range

The gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal and ashes as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt. The gas is piped direct to the burners of your Gas Range. You only have to turn a valve and strike a match, the fire is ready for cooking. Turn it off and the expense stops.

quite a swell affair last Wednesday. Mr. Earnest Henderson leaves Wednesday for Mt. Pleasant. The colored Christian church will hold services at Hillsboro Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. D. Cannon are much grieved over the loss of their baby Thursday. Rev. P. A. Bedford and the delegation will leave for the Stones River Association Wednesday. Mrs. Ida Summe is much improved at this writing.

WAVERLY NOTES.

Mrs. Sallie Griffl, of Pleasant Hill, visited Prof. P. P. Whitson this week. A large number of young boys and girls enjoyed the hospitality of little Miss Mattie Lou Webb at a party given at her residence last Friday evening. The lawn was beautifully decorated, but many little hearts were made sorrowful. Just when everything was in readiness for them little silvery drops of rain began to kiss the blades of grass and dampen the lawn lanterns. Speedy arrangements were made in the house, and in a short time about thirty little folks were as happy as springtime birds. After a dainty course was served all repaired to their homes. Mrs. Eabe Wells and Miss Gertrude Wells, of Johnsonville, spent a few hours here Saturday. Miss Eliza Luteu, of Bald Springs, and Miss Allie Knight made a hurry trip to Waverly Saturday. Mrs. Laura Spicer, of Denver, was shopping here Monday. Mr. Eli Hoopes of Pleasant Hill, was in town Saturday. Miss Marie Williams, of Nashville, is now making her annual visit to Miss Lela B. Hayes. Miss Williams has an excellent musical talent and has heretofore, with the assistance of a number of young ladies and gentlemen, rendered creditable concerts here. Mr. Lucian White recently married Miss Minnie Ramey, of Dickson. Mr. and Mrs. David Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Tate Wright spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wright, of Duck River. Granny White and Mr. Andy Price are yet very poorly.

LEXINGTON NOTES.

Mrs. Mary A. Harmon was on the sick list last week, but she is up again. Mrs. Louvenia Collier and daughter, Mrs. Queen Harman, came over from Humboldt to visit friends and relatives. During an electric storm late last Friday afternoon the lightning struck Mr. A. Townsend's house, in South Lexington, and burnt his wife and two children to death. But he was off at work. Mesdames Cora Barnhill and Frances Parker gave an entertainment for the benefit of the church last Saturday night. Rev. E. Pickens, presiding elder of the A. M. E. Church, spent a few days here with Rev. J. H. Florence. Rev. R. H. Peoples is working up quite an interest among the Pilgrim Rest members. The Pilgrim Rest Sunday-school is making great preparations for the Sunday-school rally next Sunday, August 10. A nice program will be rendered in the afternoon. Mrs. Lydie Howard, of Memphis, will spend a while visiting her relatives and friends.

SPRINGFIELD NOTES.

The Springfield base ball team under the management of Mr. Charles Suggs are playing some mighty good ball these days. All of the team being fast on their feet and good batters. This team would like to arrange a series of games with any who may be interested. If a fast and clean game is desired, write the manager at Springfield, Tenn. Mr. C. B. Butts has returned from Nashville. The farmers are praying for rain. The Robertson County Fair promises to be a great venture. Exhibits are already asking for space. Entries are being made every day. Miss Susie Jones of Nashville is visiting here. John Sebastian of Union City spent Sunday here with relatives. The farmers of this County are expecting a great tobacco yield.
